Session description:

The Young Global Changers are students, young academics, young professionals, entrepreneurs and young non-profit leaders from around the world who are developing and implementing ideas to bring about positive change, whether at the global, regional or local level. In this session we will present four different projects by Young Global Changers from four different parts of the world. Each of the projects is contributing to the aim of recoupling in different ways, providing local solutions for some of the most severe challenges we are facing today.

Objectives:

- Highlight the impact of different local projects in relation to current global challenges
- Underline how these projects can contribute to recouple economy, society and environment
- Share the stories and motivation of the Young Global Changers and why and how they engaged in driving change
