INTERACTIVE EXHIBITION „FORCED MIGRATION - CAUSES AND SOLUTIONS“

On the ground floor Daniel Etter, Pulitzer Prize winner «Breaking News Photography» 2016 presents his photographs as well as the new image recognition app „atface”: Images become virtual information tankers.

THE MISSION OF THE THINK 20

How our international network of think tanks and research institutes supports the G20

We are currently witnessing the progressive integration of the global economy and rapid technological advance, in the face of ongoing social and political fragmentation. In this context, social progress no longer seems well aligned with economic progress. Moreover, social and economic progress are both threatened by global warming. These are fundamental challenges for the G20. The Think 20 (T20), a network of international think tanks from G20 countries, helps address these challenges by providing recommendations to G20 leaders, along with visions that guide policy making.

During Germany's G20 Presidency, the vibrant T20 community developed a future-oriented architecture (www.t20germany.org). In addition to T20 conferences, the T20 created Task Forces, focused on issues of the G20 agenda. A wide variety of Policy Briefs have been brought together on the newly established G20 Insights Platform (www.g20-insights.org) that connects the policy proposals to existing policies and agreements. Moreover a T20 Africa Standing Group has been established, in order to develop further dialogues on global development and G20 issues with African partners.

Based on these newly developed initiatives, the T20 will discuss and evaluate its recommendations and present them to the German G20 Presidency at the T20 Summit GLOBAL SOLUTIONS in Berlin.

The time has come for the G20 member states to embrace a common vision that enables the world's population to achieve an economically prosperous, environmentally sustainable, socially inclusive future that is resilient with respect to unforeseen shocks. The G20 member states, along with all other states, must follow their distinctive destinies, while sharing a common vision for dealing with problems that they all share. May the T20 Summit GLOBAL SOLUTIONS contribute to this goal.
